How do I prepare for the bone density test?

- If you have had a nuclear medicine test involving an injection or a GI/stomach/bowel x-ray involving a barium swallow, delay having the DXA test for 3 weeks.
- Please try and wear the following types of clothing:
  - Try to wear a top with no buttons, zippers or hooks, such as a T-shirt or sweater.
  - If you have a pair of slacks with an elastic waistband, that would be ideal. If not, then please wear loose-fitting slacks.

- If you are a woman, wear a sports bra with no wires or hooks. If you don't have one, that's OK; our technologist will know what to do.
- If you take calcium tablets, do not take your calcium tablet in the morning on the day of the test.
- If there is any chance you are pregnant, you should not have this test.
- If you are wheelchair-bound, you must be accompanied by someone who can help you transfer out of the chair and onto the testing table.
  - The surface of the testing table is 2.5 feet off the floor.

What if I need to cancel my appointment?

To cancel an appointment, please give us 2 business days notice. Failing to do so, or not showing up for an appointment can result in a $150 charge.
